

Adelaide Writers' Week and loads of Fringe shows for the whole family - Mad March is here

🕒 March 3, 2017 6:00am

👤 Natalie De Nadai and Stephanie Timotheou

Children's author/illustrator Andrew Joyner at Walford Anglican School for Girls. Students will be volunteering at the Adelaide Writer's week. Deamanthe, Ruby, Andrew and Ellie. Picture: Keryn Stevens

WHAT are you doing this weekend? We've got you covered in all areas of Adelaide with all things Fringe and Adelaide Writers' Week

CITY

Adelaide Writers' Week

Writers from across the globe will converge on the Pioneer Women's Memorial Garden for this event, as part of Adelaide Festival. This is a chance for writers, readers and lovers of literature to hear some of the best contemporary writers and thinkers in the flesh. This weekend is The Kids' Weekend where there will be story readings and art and craft activities. King William Rd, various times and prices until March 9. Details: adelaidefestival.com.au

NORTH

Salisbury Secret Garden Family Fun Day

A fun filled afternoon with so much for the whole family. Join in for live performances, great food and family-friendly activities. Salisbury Secret Garden at Civic Square, corner of John and Church streets, Salisbury, Sunday, 1pm. Free. Details: adelaidefringe.com.au

EAST

Woop Wagon

The barefoot bunch live their life travelling down under in a wagon more fun than swinging on a hills-hoist over a sprinkler. Goodwood Institute Theatre, 166 Goodwood Rd, Goodwood, Saturday and Sunday, 1pm. Also at various dates and times until March 12. Tickets: adults $17. Details: adelaidefringe.com.au

SOUTH

Fleurieu Fringe

Featuring live entertainment, performing arts, children's activities, art installations, workshops, food trucks, bars and artisan markets. River Stage at Fleurieu Fringe, 21 Wearing St, Port Noarlunga, Saturday, 3pm-9pm. Also on every Friday and Saturday until March 18. Details: adelaidefringe.com.au

WEST

Zany Zen

An interactive, comical show for families, where actions speak louder than words. The Flour Shed at Hart's Mill, Mundy St, Port Adelaide, Sunday, 11am and 1pm. Also on March 18. Tickets: adults $15, children $10. Details: adelaidefringe.com.au